

A photograph of a modern living room. The room features a large window with sheer curtains on the right, allowing dappled light to enter. In the center, there is a low-profile sofa with cushions and a coffee table made of two overlapping wire mesh tables. A large, dark artwork with a white, branching pattern is mounted on the wall. A floor lamp with a curved arm and a spherical shade is positioned near the artwork. The ceiling has recessed lighting. The overall atmosphere is warm and contemporary.

history repeating

This sublime Melbourne house by Neometro Architects was designed to evoke the warmth and character of the owners' previous home of over thirty years. Story by Emily Potter Photography by Trevor Mein

LEFT: Dappled light from established trees layers the street-front living area with a soft, comforting beauty. Warren Platner low tables continue the shadow play. FOLLOWING PAGES, LEFT: Simple planes of material are bold and perpetually elegant. RIGHT: Porcelain and terracotta tiles blend interior spaces with the sunny central courtyard.